

DARK COLORS.

So many dressy men are wearing dark colored overcoats that it is considered the most popular style just now. We have a large assortment in both rough and smooth surface goods all the way from $8 to $25. Everybody wants them long cut, but nobody asks for longer ones than ours. We "caught the idea" just right.

Finest in the State.

Every man, woman and child in Putnam county has heard of John Piercy's Big Drug House, famous everywhere for goods of the best quality at reasonable prices. An immense stock has been put in their new room in the City Hall block, west side of public square, and the Big Store is better prepared than ever to handle its enormous trade in a thorough and expeditious manner. Come in and see the new fixtures. It is the fine drug store in the state.

A Big Law Suit.

The largest suit ever brought in Putnam county was begun last week in the Putnam circuit court. Benjamin Reynolds et al., of Lafayette, sued the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway company for $780,450.00 damages, for breach of contract. The controversy grows out of a contract entered into by the company with the Reynolds, to construct the Carbon feeder to intersect the main line at or near Bainbridge. The complaint and exhibits cover thirty-six typewritten pages. Attorney F. M. Trissal, of Chicago, represents the plaintiff.

As He Sees Us.

E. Flint Tennant, editor of the Goodland (Kansas) News, who recently visited his parents here, has a long and well written article in his paper on the political situation in Indiana. He says, in part:

"During our recent trip to our old home state we were particularly inquired of both democratic and republican friends as to how the state would go in November. At Greencastle five men in both parties who are prominent in state politics and whose opinions are worth a great deal. The republicans are not enthusiastic and say that the state will be very close but they may carry it for Harrison. The democrats also say that the state is close but they count on 15,000 majority for Cleveland and the state ticket. The main thing that the democrats rely on for victory is the Australian ballot system. This system was used two years ago for the first time and large democratic gains was the result, and it is supposed that the same will be the case at the coming election. Harrison's majority in the state in '88 was only 2,300, and this was brought about by the shameful black-five system which will be impossible this year. Chief of Police Starr, of Greencastle, who has a life contract for his office under a republican city administration, said to us, 'The Australian system knocks all the interest out of a campaign. You can't lead them up to the polls now and make them vote your way.'"

SOUTH END.

Robert Gorton has moved to Brazil. Chas. Smith, who has been very sick with typhoid fever, is improving.

The DEMOCRAT's subscription list is steadily increasing in South Greencastle.

The Shuttleworth divorce suit has been withdrawn and they are again at home to their friends, on Crown street.

Will Cummings fell into a deep privy vault Wednesday and had a narrow escape from drowning. John Cooper and Frank McCoy succeeded in rescuing him just in time.

We want a policeman. The taxpayers of this end of town are entitled to police protection as well as other citizens. A gang of bad boys constantly increasing in numbers and growing bolder in their depredations—operates every night here. On Saturday night they gave a Halloween celebration in advance of the regular date. Wagons were run off and destroyed and other acts of vandalism committed. In the afternoon they locked John Armstrong, the cobbler, up in his new shop, the old gentleman having left his key in the door, and kept him prisoner for some time. Another raid by tramp burglars on our merchants is also about due.

A DEMOCRATIC Legislature, in 1859, enacted a law which renders it impossible for wild cat money to be issued in Indiana. The ten per cent tax on State bank currency had nothing to do with wiping out that legacy of the Proem elements which united against the democracy in '54. The ten per cent tax did cause the State bank and branches to withdraw their circulation and quit business, which were sound institutions. The repeal of the ten per cent tax would not authorize the issue of a dollar of free bank currency, and any individual or officer of any corporation so doing would be subject to heavy penalties.

Come to Time.

The Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway company paid up their taxes in Putnam county Thursday. The amount paid into the treasury was $5,800, including $501 penalty. The other companies will doubtless follow this sensible example. The excellent democratic tax law is bringing the corporations to time, and making them bear their share of the burthens of taxation.

Democrats, Be on Your Guard.

Unsigned, lying circulars are being circulated charging that Hon. Frank D. Ader cast votes in the legislature against the interests of organized labor. The celebrated blue book, in which the names of all legislators who were deemed to have cast votes inimical to labor are recorded, does not contain Mr. Ader's name. Nor does it condemn any measure he supported. The fact is, his record on the labor and all other questions is exceptionally good. The republicans have about abandoned all hope of Harrison's election, and are concentrating their efforts to retain control of the United States Senate. This would prevent the passage of all reformatory laws. A vote against Ader is a vote for a republican Senator.

Death of Jennings R. Pierson.

Jennings Pierson, of the Indianapolis police force, died at that city Sunday morning, of typhoid fever, aged forty-two years. He leaves a wife and two children, and was well known here, where he resided for some time. The remains were interred at that place Tuesday afternoon. The Sentinel says: "He was on the force about two years and was considered one of its best men." A detail of patrolmen attended the funeral services.

Mr. Pierson had the most important beat in the city, on Washington street. The board of public safety adopted the following resolution: "In the death of Jennings R. Pierson the police force has lost a member who was respected by the entire department as being a faithful and efficient policeman. It is therefore ordered that the superintendent of police be directed to have the station house draped for a period of thirty days, and that the superintendent direct a proper detail of officers and patrolmen to be made to attend the funeral in full uniform."

No Democrats Need Apply.

Carnegie, Wansmaker & Co. have constructed a railroad up Salt river valley. Greencastle is a way station. A special train will be run up the valley next Wednesday. Mayor Case and T. T. Moore will be in charge. All democrats will be excluded, as "they [Charley and Tom] thought of it first" and chartered (?) it by guaranteeing that all good republicans would take passage. Box cars will be provided for all; come early to avoid the rush and "bring baskets well filled." No tin horns will be required. Leave the dice at home as all the coin and currency will be left in charge of the democrats.

More Republican Vandalism.

John Q. Vermillion and Daniel Shonkwiler had an appointment to speak at Portland Mills last Monday night. The use of the Christian church was secured and was filled to overflowing. While Mr. Vermillion was speaking a republican hoodlum made repeated efforts to disturb him. Threats had been made that Mr. Shonkwiler should not speak, but it was not deemed advisable to interrupt him and his telling speech was listened to with much interest. While the speaking was in progress the bull-dozers were getting in their cowardly work outside. Chairman Vestal's team was turned loose but was luckily caught before damage was done. Mr. Shonkwiler's horse was unhitched and the harness broken. Whips were stolen and horses loosened and much other vandalism indulged in by these law breaking representatives of the party that is in favor of "every man having a right to cast a ballot and having that ballot counted." Mr. Shonkwiler has always been a republican and as is well known, recently left the party and announced himself for Cleveland and the entire democratic ticket. He has since been making most effective speeches for the cause of tariff reform and against the force bill. He carries with him into the democratic ranks about twenty of his friends in Putnam and Parke counties.

Marriage Licenses.

Joseph S. Allee and Ida A. Tilly.
Henry Evans and Minerva Neece.

OUR CANDIDATES.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Grover Cleveland is the embodiment of all that is purest and best in statesmanship and politics. He was nominated by the people, and by the people will be elected.

ADLAI STEVENSON.

Adlai Stevenson is a capable, consistent and pure man. He is beloved by his neighbors of all parties, and will grace the position of Vice President with firmness, impartiality and ability.

Claude Matthews is a man of the people. He is noted for his honesty and frankness as well as his other fitting accomplishments for the office of Chief Magistrate of the State.

All of the other candidates on the Democratic State ticket are men of unblemished character and unquestioned qualifications.

Hon. George W. Cooper's record speaks for him. An industrious and faithful Representative, an upright Christian gentleman; no tricky, swindling gambler can stand with him before the people. He is sure to be returned to Congress.

J. M. Sells, candidate for Joint Senator, is a plain honest man. Well fitted for the position to which he aspires, he should receive the vote of every Democrat. A vote for him is a vote for a democratic U. S. Senator.

FRANK D. ADER.

F. D. Ader, candidate for Joint Representative, has twice been tried as a representative and not found wanting. He was always true to the interests of the masses. He aided in framing and enacting those beneficent acts, the school-book law, the election law, the fee and salary law and the tax law, and much other wholesome legislation. In the future as in the past, he will always be found on the right side of every question, involving the rights and interests of the people. A vote against him is a vote for Fairbanks, the millionaire railroad wrecker, for U. S. Senator.

John Q. Vermillion is a self-made young man of sterling qualities and good antecedents. He has made a gallant canvass, and will make a safe, industrious and attentive representative.

Frank A. Horner has discharged the duties of Prosecuting Attorney with fairness, industry and probity. His deputy for this county, J. H. James, Esq., is a zealous, just and efficient officer. Mr. Horner was unanimously selected by the democrats as their candidate for that position. No reason exists for any democrat to go back on Mr. Horner. To do so would be an act of bad faith. Vote for Horner.

GEORGE W. HUGHES.

George W. Hughes is a plain farmer, highly esteemed by all who know him. When a boy he enlisted in the service of his country and gallantly faced the enemy on many battle-fields. He is possessed of the Jeffersonian qualifications, honesty and capability. He will be the next County Treasurer.

Francis M. Glidewell is another farmer and ex-soldier. He is rich, but not in money and goods. Of these he has little. His is the priceless wealth of neighbor's love and esteem. He will be the genial Bill Vestal's successor by a large majority, and will discharge the duties of the office of Sheriff with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the people.

Thomas W. McNell, the present efficient Coroner, will continue to "set" on the unfortunate victims of accidents and sudden takings off. He is capable and industrious, and as good a democrat as any of them.

James F. O'Brien, democratic candidate for County Surveyor, was born in this city, February 1, 1857, and is the son of the well known citizen, John O'Brien. At an early age James moved with his parents to a farm near Hamrick station and there grew up to manhood. He took a common school course and then attended the academy at LaVega and completed his education at the State Normal school at Terre Haute. He then engaged in teaching in the public schools and has been so engaged during a part of almost every year since. He has been three elected County Surveyor of Putnam county and is filling that office at present.

He is a member of the Indiana society of surveyors and engineers, and has been twice elected Vice President of that organization.

Several years since he united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Cline, of Cloverdale township, and three bright little ones now add cheer to their home.

JAMES F. O'BRIEN.

Mr. O'Brien is an exceedingly bright young man, is an industrious student and thoroughly posted in the topics of the time. As a school-teacher, he has been very successful, and since his first school, has always been awarded the highest grade of license. He is a good mathematician and has superior qualifications for the office he honors. He is a ready and pungent writer, and the emanations of his pen frequently brighten the pages of the DEMOCRAT. He also occasionally dallies with the muses, and his verses are never without merit. The Democracy of Putnam may well be proud of him, and next Tuesday they will show their appreciation by augmenting the constantly increasing majorities by which he has heretofore been elected.

William Broadstreet has been the best investment as a county officer the county has made for a long time. He has saved for the county many times his salary. He has experience as well as the best of other qualifications for the position of County Assessor, and will run ahead of his ticket.

John D. Hart and Samuel E. Farmer have most satisfactorily discharged the duties of County Commissioners. The people will express their appreciation of their faithful services by re-electing them.

There is not a blot or blur on the character of any member of the ticket from beginning to end. So that every good democrat can vote it conscientiously without a scratch. Stamp the rooster on the red and on the white ticket, fold them separately, and deliver to the inspector.

A CORRESPONDENT asks us how much the Indiana Legislature appropriated in aid of the World's Fair. $75,000 is the amount. And it is little enough for the great State of Indiana to use in making a proper exhibition of her resources and attractions before the eyes of the world. Like money expended in advertising it will come back increased ten fold.

STAMP the rooster and let him do the scratching.

SATMP, stamp; stamp with caire, Stamp in the square with the roostaire.

VOTE it straight without a fear, Stamp in the square with chanticleer.

Don't attempt to vote a scratched ticket and perhaps make a mistake that will cause your ballot to be thrown out. Vote the straight democratic ticket.

THE republicans are scared—scared as bad as that 'possum. A prominent appointee of Harrison's, in this city, recently went from house to house, pitifully beseeching theological students not to vote the prohibition ticket, but to help poor old Ben, Frick, Carnegie & Co. out just once more. He didn't catch any suckers.

We have repeatedly charged that the leaders of the peoples' party in Indiana are playing into the hands of the republicans.

It is a notorious fact that they have been trying to make a dieker with the republican State committee and with the committee of this county. Connected with the peoples' party movement are a few republicans who are there merely as stool pigeons to beguile democrats into the ranks. All the while it has been their intention, at the supreme moment, to declare for Harrison and endeavor to carry a few democrats with them. We learn from a Cloverdale correspondent that one Mr. Garwood, of that township, who had always been a republican, but has apparently been an active populist since this campaign, declared his intention to vote for Harrison and there all of them will be found on election day.

Appropos of this subject every democratic third party man should read the communication in another column signed "Voter." It looks very much like some men are being made fools of.

A VOTE for Cleveland is a vote for economy in public expenditures. A vote for Harrison is a vote for billion dollar Congresses.

A vote for Cleveland is death to taxation of the masses for the benefit of a few. A vote for Harrison is a vote to perpetuate the iniquitous McKinley tariff.

A vote for Cleveland is a vote for a free and untrammelled ballot.

A vote for Harrison is a vote for the infamous Force bill with swarms of armed marshals at the polls.

A vote for Cleveland is a vote for a man who regards a public office as a public trust.

A vote for Harrison is a vote for a man who regards a public office as a badge to be traded for votes.

A vote for Weaver is a vote thrown away. Vote for Cleveland.

OUR last word of advice: Stamp the rooster and let him do the scratching with his spurs. Let nothing tempt you into a violation of the laws and see that no other man violates them.

BRIEF INTERVIEWS.

A DEPUTY PROFESSOR: "What has become of the boasted civil service reform that was to distinguish the administration of President Harrison? Not only has the system not been extended, but both the letter and spirit of the law have been violated by the office holders of high and low degree. Wansmaker and Halford are stumping Indiana, so is Bob Lincoln, the degenerated son of a worthy sire, and nearly all the cabinet officers and all of the smaller fry have mounted the hustings in the hope of securing another lease of power. The fact is, the Minneapolis convention was a convention of office-holders, who worked like beavers for the re-nomination of their chieftain."

A CITIZEN: "I am one of those who was victimized by the boys on Halloween. They were very lenient in their treatment of me, but what I want to call your attention to is the amount of labor involved in their fun. They 'toted' the trunk of a tree at least two feet in diameter and dumped it across Indiana street, where it still obstructs the travel on that street. I doubt if one of them could have been hired to do the same job by daylight."

A HOUSEWIFE: "I wish you would speak a word in regard to the duty we owe to our hired help. An example must be made of the libertines who debauch them, for they will continue to go to the bad, and it will not be safe for our daughters to seek employment in that capacity. Every friend of good morals is interested in this matter. Perhaps the 'lady of the house' is to blame at times in treating her servants as menials and outcasts, when they are not."

THOS. L. STILLWELL, the republican candidate for Joint Senator, is out in a circular in which he pledges himself to make a radical change in the tax law. He proposes that the amount of mortgages shall be deducted from the assessment of real estate so encumbered. No such law was ever enacted in this State nor ever will be. It would enable railroad companies and other corporations to avoid the payment of any taxes whatever, and throw the burthen of supporting the government upon the poor. Mr. Stillwell is either a fool or a demagog.

Below will be found the names of all the candidates for state officers to be voted for in the several commonwealths which elect state officers November 8. The abbreviations used are as follows: Rep., republican; dem., democrat; pro., prohibitionist; pro., people's, used uniformly for the new party, whether known as people's or independent; sil., silver; L. W. rep., lily white republican; B. dem., bolting democrat; sil. dem., silver democrat; C. dem., Cleveland democrat; soc., socialist. Two or more party designations after the name of a candidate indicate a fusion. As will be observed, there is more fusion this year than usual, especially among the democrats and people's party in several of the western states. In others, as in Texas and in Colorado, the democrats are indulging in family rows which lend decided zest to the campaign in those states, while in Nevada numbers of old republicans and democrats seem to have been absorbed into the new silver party, which is at war with both the old party organizations. In several of the southern states the republicans have put out no tickets and will content themselves with supporting the nominees of the people's party, representing the opposition to the democracy. Altogether the situation is as complicated as anyone could wish—a fact that will add greatly to the interest in the election returns as they come in Tuesday evening, November 8.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—In addition to voting for president, congressmen and a legislature, California will vote next week on the following propositions: To refund the state debt; to build a depot at San Francisco; an educational qualification requiring every voter to be able to write his own name and to be able to read the federal constitution; election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Nine Persons Perish by Fire in Iowa, Nebraska and Canada.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 1.—Eire in a dwelling-house 2 miles south of the city early Monday morning burned to death a woman and three children, and a fifth occupant, a man, will die of his burns. The house was occupied by John Cage, Sr., and wife, whose home is in Texas; Mr. and Mrs. George Cage and their three children, one of them an infant three days old. The victims are the aged couple and the three children. The mother of the children was rescued alive, but is in a precarious condition. She was dragged out through a window by her husband, who was the first to be aroused. The fire originated from a defective flue and in a short time enveloped the whole house.

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Nov. 1.—The four children of Mrs. Morrier, a widow living near this village, were burned to death Monday morning. The little ones, whose ages were 6, 4, 2½ and 1 year old, were left alone in the house while their mother went to visit a neighbor. Coals falling from a grate spread with such rapidity that when neighbors arrived the escape of the children was entirely cut off. The mother is insane from grief.

McCook, Neb., Nov. 1.—A coffee urn in the Burlington & Missouri river railway hotel here exploded Sunday night and set fire to the building. Most of the occupants of the building escaped without injury, but Mrs. E. S. Granger, wife of the proprietor, was burned to death before she could escape. Mr. E. S. Granger was fatally burned in attempting his wife's rescue and his little daughter was dangerously burned. A traveling man named McGill from Chicago jumped from a second-story window and broke his hip. The loss on the building is $35,000.

OVER THE LIFE LINE.

Thrilling Escape of Women and Children at New Orleans—Rescued in a Rope Cradle—The Grunewald Opera House Destroyed—Loss, $200,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—The Grunewald opera house was destroyed by fire at an early hour, involving a loss of $200,000. Only by thorough work of the fire department was a terrible conflagration averted, for within a few yards of the burning building are situated the magnificent Chess, Checker and Whist club, the superb Jesuit church and college, the Tulane university building and other fine structures. The opera house was on Baronne street near Canal. The building was entirely destroyed. It cost between $175,000 and $200,000 and was insured for between $60,000 and $70,000 in local and northern companies. The opera house had recently been repaired at a cost of $25,000.

The families upstairs had a narrow escape. As soon as the inmates heard the alarm they rushed out on the balconies of the fourth floor in their night dresses. The building was then wrapped in flames. Ladders were run up against the burning building, and three firemen made their way inside. A small alley separated the opera house from the Chess, Checker and Whist building, and between the roofs of the two buildings a rope cradle was improvised. A gallant fireman went hand over hand across the gulf. He fastened the rope to the waists of the women and children, one at a time, and they were drawn over to the roof and balconies of the club house. It was a thrilling sight as the women and children hung beneath the rope surrounded by tongues of flame. When the rescued people had reached safety it was discovered that Mrs. Metz and her infant boy had been badly burned about the legs.

Failure Caused by the Cholera.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 1.—A. D. Barling, raisin-grower and shipper, has filed a petition in the superior court asking to be declared an insolvent debtor. The failure is a very serious one. Barling's liabilities aggregate $113,000. At the commencement of the fruit season Barling bought heavily. He made big shipments east, but just then the cholera scare came on, and the bottom dropped out of the fruit market, seriously embarrassing him.

ROBBED A TRAIN.

Masked Men Secure a Small Sum on a Southern Railroad.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 2.—Full particulars of the train robbery on the East Tennessee & Georgia railroad beyond Piedmont Monday night have come to hand. The train was standing at the tank and the robbers first entered the baggage car, which was the front half of the smoker. No one was in the car except Will Yeatman, Jim Quinn, the baggage man, having stepped into the express car. Covering Yeatman with revolvers the two masked robbers had him precede them into the express car, tying the door behind them. As they entered the express car they gave the command: "Hands up, every one of you!" In the car was Jim Quinn, baggage master; Tony Rogers, express messenger, and Engineer Bailey Green, who was sitting on a box by the front door.

As soon as Green took in the situation he slid through the door and made his way to the engine. His fireman, seeing his hurry, thought another train was coming and jerked the throttle open. Green got his seat and kept the train at the top of her speed until the air-brakes were put on by some one in the rear, which brought the train to a full stop. He looked out and saw the robbers jump and fired at them as they ran off into the woods, one of them uttering a cry of pain as if hit.

In the meantime one of the robbers proceeded to the mail car. When Agent H. W. Stearns saw him he called out: "Don't shoot and you are welcome to all I have got." He had only three registered packages, which he surrendered. Express Messenger Rogers cheerfully surrendered $700 which he had just taken aboard at Piedmont. The robber then commanded him to stop the train. Rogers pulled the bell cord in vain, as Engineer Green was making for Jacksonville. "If you don't stop it I'll kill you," said the robber to Rogers. "I can't," answered the messenger, but about that time the robbers saw the side cord and pulled it, which put on the air brakes. The shot from the engineer was the first intimation the passengers had of the scenes up in front. The robbers have not been caught.

SWAM THROUGH FIRE.

Horrible Experience of Three Men Caught in a River Covered with Blazing Oil—One Drowned; the Others Are Terribly Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The Schuylkill river at Point Breeze, the extreme southern point of the city, is always covered with a scum of oil from adjacent works and since the oil fire there Sunday more than the usual quantity has been floating on the surface. William Miller, Albert Krumbach and Warren Hill started from the eastern shore Tuesday evening in a rowboat to cross the river. When 150 feet from the shore one of the men lighted his pipe and tossed the blazing stick into the water. As the match fell a burst of flames shot up alongside the skiff and almost instantly the surface around the boat was blazing fiercely. The flames of the burning oil licked the gunwales of the light craft, and the men, realizing that it would be quickly consumed, plunged into the burning fluid and tried to swim ashore. The fire circle grew larger and spread more rapidly than they could swim and they found that they were being roasted alive. Hill sank beneath the blazing surface and was seen no more; but his two companions by repeatedly diving and swimming beneath the surface succeeded in reaching the shore. Both men were horribly burned about the shoulders, head, face and arms. The fire spread down the river. The wrecking steamer Maryland caught fire and was damaged to the extent of $15,000. Streams of water from several engines and tugs finally put the burning oil out.

BANDITS IN A BANK.

They Force the Cashier of a Kansas Institution to Yield Up $10,000 and Make Their Escape.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—Three masked men rode into Spearville, Kan., Tuesday morning and halted in front of the Hennessy bank. There were few people on the street and the men were not noticed even by the bank officials until the robbers were at the railing with their weapons presented. Two of the masked men went inside and the third remained on the outside holding his Winchester aimed at Cashier Baird, who is crippled and unable to use but one hand. They compelled Mr. Baird to open the small safe and hand over $10,000 in gold, all of the money that the bank had on hand. They then fired their Winchester through the heavy glass in the front and the railings of the bank, and making the crippled cashier get on his knees under the counter they mounted their horses and rode away, taking not only the money but the office inkstands, pen-racks and a similar small fixtures with them. Sheriff Beeson with a party is in pursuit of the robbers.

Miss Willard Honored Again.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 2.—The session of the national W. C. T. U. was taken up in electing officers. The vote for president resulted in 333 votes for Frances E. Willard, who was taken to the platform amid the greatest enthusiasm and the waving of handkerchiefs. Mrs. Buell was elected corresponding secretary, Miss Pugh treasurer and Mrs. Woodbridge recording secretary.

Ohio's Gas Playing Out.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—The people of northwestern Ohio are now realizing what they have been afraid of for some time. The natural gas fields are playing out. At Lima the Natural Gas Company announced its inability to make any more connections than those already made and warned the people that a stock of coal and wood had better be in before winter sets in. Coal took a jump of one dollar per ton immediately. This unfortunate failure of natural gas, just as the cold weather begins, will work hardships for many poor families.

CAUGHT IN A GALE.

Many Vessels Wrecked During Recent Storms on the Great Lakes—Three Lives Lost.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The northwest gale of Friday night and Saturday caused great havoc in lake shipping. Three lives were lost and boats worth over $1,000,000 were wrecked. As most of the larger boats can be saved the actual money lost will probably not exceed $200,000. The list of wrecks is: Schooner Nellie Hammond, wrecked at Muskegon; steamer Tuscarora, stranded at Lake Kline; steamer City of Naples, stranded at False Presque Isle; schooner Zach Chandler, missing on Lake Superior; steam barge Canoe, barges Pomeroy and A. Stewart, stranded below Cheboygan; two barges of steamer Curtis, missing on Lake Huron; tug Onward, sunk at Traverse City; schooner H. P. Baldwin, ashore near Colchester; schooner Glad Tidings, ashore at Cleveland; schooner Marba, Pontiac and Ketchum, sunk at Cleveland; schooner Col. Cook, total loss at Cleveland; schooner Jennie Mullen, canvas blown away on Lake Michigan; schooner Commerce, lost canvas on Lake Michigan; schooner Samana, ashore at Cleveland; barges Ketchum, Senator Blood, Republic, Gould, Saginaw, Walbridge, missing on Saginaw bay.

This does not include the score of boats around all the way from Port Huron to the Lime Kilns in St. Clair and Detroit rivers. In the way of money losses the gale has been the most severe in several years.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 31.—The great southwestern gale of Friday night left many wrecks along the shores of the lakes and caused the loss of three lives at least. Many people are reported missing and their fate is not yet known. At Manistee, Mich., the schooner Nellie Hammond was sunk by striking a pier while entering the harbor. The captain, Louis Michalison, was washed overboard and drowned, the remainder of the crew escaping.

At Sand Beach the waves are coming over the top of the breakwater to the height of 30 feet. An unknown sailor was washed off the main pier in the harbor Saturday morning and drowned. The body has not been recovered yet. Grave fears are entertained as to the fate of the steam dredge Dominion and its crew. It has been working near Leamington, Ont., for some weeks and Saturday morning disappeared entirely. A search over this part of Lake Erie failed to reveal its whereabouts. It is thought it either sank entirely or was blown across the lake. It had a crew of six men.

The schooner Zach Chandler went ashore Friday 4 miles east of life-saving station No. 12 and is a total wreck. All hands were saved but one man, a Norwegian hailing from Cleveland.

BACK IN WASHINGTON.

President Harrison Deeply Feels the Sympathy of the People—Guarding the Tomb.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The president and the members of his private and official family who accompanied him to Indianapolis, returned to the national capital at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Secretary and Mrs. Rusk, Secretary Noble and Postmaster General Vanamaker did not return with the party. Mr. Vanamaker left the train at Harrisburg to go to his home in Philadelphia prior to taking part in the campaign in Indiana. The others named proceeded to their respective homes from Indianapolis. Gen. and Mrs. Schofield and Secretary Charles Foster joined the party at Indianapolis and returned with it to Washington. Before their separation at the station in this city the president took occasion to express his complete satisfaction with the management of the trip. The entire journey of 1,500 miles, going and coming, was made in strict accordance with the prearranged schedule and without the least discomfort to the travelers. On the run from Baltimore the president spoke with evident feeling of his deep appreciation of the marked sympathy and consideration displayed toward the afflicted family by the people at all points on the route. He and the members of his family proceeded direct to the white house, where they naturally received many additional sad reminders of their great bereavement.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 31.—Superintendent Chislett, of Crown Hill cemetery, has selected to guard Mrs. Harrison's grave six men from among the employees at the burying ground. Two men are placed on duty at a time and they serve for eight hours, when they are relieved by the second guard, relieved in turn by the third. This precaution is believed to be necessary to forestall any attempt to desecrate the tomb.

Failure in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—All of a sudden and when it was least expected, J. & L. Wineman, makers and wholesalers of clothing at 254 and 256 Franklin street, went to pieces Saturday. Judgments amounting to $60,000 were confessed just before the superior court closed for the week. It was impossible to ascertain the extent of the liabilities or assets. The latter are said to be very small, while the debts will probably not be less than $125,000 or possibly $150,000.

Valuable Horses Burned.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 31.—Milo Thomlinson, a well-known horseman, went into his stable near this city Friday night with a shovelful of live coals with which to fumigate the place. A horse kicked him over and fired the barn. Thomlinson barely managed to crawl out and is fatally injured. Six fast running horses were burned, including the well-known racers Memory and Bytown. The horses were valued at $5,000.

SOME MONEY MATTERS.

A gold double eagle of 1849 is worth $100.

There are $1,400,000,000 in gold in circulation throughout the world.

A Florida silver half dollar of 1760 is worth $10, while the Virginia silver half dollar of 1773 is valued at $2. The pewter continental dollar of 1776 is worth $3.

The copper threepence of Connecticut, issued in 1737, is appraised at $30. One variety has the inscription: "I am a good copper," and another has the device of an ax, with the words: "Cut my way through."

AT REST.

The Remains of Mrs. Harrison Placed in the Tomb at Indianapolis—Services at the Church and Cemetery.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 29.—It is over at last. All that is yet mortal of Caroline Scott Harrison is lying at rest in the silent cemetery of Crown Hill, and her place will know her no more. The elegantly equipped special conveying the party arrived here at 9:30 o'clock, promptly on schedule time, and was greeted by thousands of sympathetic friends.

The president's grief was generally respected and nearly all the men in attendance removed their hats and bowed their heads when he passed through the station, leading his sorrowing family to the carriages provided for them. A delay of half an hour was caused in transferring from the funeral car the wealth of floral emblems that typified the love and devotion of hundreds of friends.

Everything being in readiness the casket was lifted and slowly and reverently the cortege moved out through the sheds, through the union station to the carriages in waiting. The casket was borne by John B. Elam, the president's law partner, Judge Woods, Hon. E. B. Martindale, Gen. Lew Wallace, Dr. Allen and T. P. Haughey.

In front of the pit bearers were Judge Niblack and W. P. Fishback, and in the rear Moses G. McClain and John R. Elder, and following them the sorrowing relatives and the president's official family. The carriages proceeded directly to the church, which was a thing of beauty in its somber and graceful decorations.

The church services were characterized by the greatest simplicity. As the coffin was carried up the aisle and deposited in front of the chancel the organ pealed forth a soft melody. The choir then sang "Lead, Kindly Light" with beautiful effect and Dr. Haines offered a short invocation and read a selection from the Scriptures. The text of the sermon was: "Therefore comfort one another with these words."

As stillness as of death pervaded the sacred edifice while the minister dwelt upon the beauties and happiness of a Christian life, but when, in low and trembling tones, he eulogized and touchingly spoke directly of her who had passed away and recounted her manifold virtues, many of his hearers were moved to tears and sounds of subdued sobbing pervaded the church. The president sat with his head bowed upon his breast, and several times the twitching of the muscles indicated how difficult was his effort to retain his composure. There was a momentary pause after the pastor had concluded his discourse, and his place was then taken by Rev. Dr. N. A. Hyde, of the Congregationalist denomination, who delivered the prayer.

Once again the voice of the singers broke the silence. By the president's special desire another favorite selection of his wife's: "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," had been chosen with which to close the services. Softly, from amid the shrubbery, a requiem borne upon the air and penetrating with a softening influence to every heart, came the melodious strains.

When the last of the funeral party had been escorted to their carriages the cortege moved slowly to Crown Hill cemetery. With but few exceptions all of the private residences along the boulevard displayed emblems of mourning. The cemetery was reached shortly before 1 o'clock and the cortege passed under the magnificent stone arches and proceeded along the drive to the western boundary of the city of the dead until it reached the slope of a beautiful spot surrounded with palms. Here was the newly made grave. Women's hands had lined it with beautiful flowers whose fragrance filled the air. Once again and for the last time the casket was lifted from

FARMERS ROBBED.

How Protection Has Foreclosed Farm Mortgages—Two Typical States.
At the request of Senator Peffer, of Kansas, the census bureau has prepared a table making a comparison between agricultural conditions in Kansas and in Ohio. The selected counties are considered, and the conclusion is that the farmers of Kansas have no great reason to complain, as they are about as well off as those of Ohio. The table is as follows:

Counties.	1880.	1890.
Kansas (ten counties).....	33.25	13.13
Chase.....	33.59	14.33
Clay.....	30.16	13.67
Dickinson.....	33.18	13.66
Geary.....	32.66	13.28
McPherson.....	32.73	10.75
Marion.....	29.73	17.66
Morris.....	37.09	10.22
Ottawa.....	35.96	9.35
Riley.....	23.56	15.83
Saline.....	30.05	12.44
Ohio (ten counties).....	37.10	24.98
Adams.....	37.19	18.30
Brown.....	32.19	17.51
Butler.....	41.30	30.47
Cleburne.....	34.46	21.82
Clinton.....	38.34	23.92
Green.....	39.28	28.37
Hamilton.....	19.32	38.51
Highland.....	31.19	16.85
Preble.....	37.69	38.49
Parson.....	41.68	29.59

It must be noticed here that of the total number of farmers in these ten counties of Kansas 33.25 per cent. are renters, while 37.10 per cent. of the farmers in ten Ohio counties are renters.

It is argued from this astonishing showing (over a third of the farmers of Ohio and Kansas landless) that Kansas has complained too much, since Ohio is even worse. But how are the farmers of Kansas helped by the poverty of Ohio farmers under republican rule? But here is another point for consideration:

Percentage of renters in ten Kansas counties, 1890.....33.25
Percentage of renters in ten Kansas counties, 1880.....13.13
Increase of percentage of Kansas renters in ten years.....20.12

That is, there were more than twice as many renters in Kansas in 1890 as in 1880. Here is the like table for Ohio:

Percentage of renters in ten Ohio counties, 1890.....37.10
Percentage of renters in ten Ohio counties, 1880.....24.98
Increase of percentage in Ohio in ten years.....12.14

So it is shown by the figures of the census office that while the increase in the number of landless farmers in Ohio has been 50 per cent. in ten years of republican rule, the percentage of increase in Kansas has been 153 per cent. Tabulating these instructive figures they will stand thus:

Increase of the landless farmers in Kansas in ten years of republicanism.....	153
Increase of landless farmers in Ohio in ten years of republicanism.....	50

Net increase in Kansas over Ohio in poverty of its farmers.....103
The great percentage increase of Kansas poverty over Ohio poverty is accounted for by the fact that Kansas farmers made a more recent start as landowners. Republicanism has been turning them out of their homes faster than in Ohio, because, in 1880 when this comparison began, the percentage of Kansas farmers owning their own homes was much greater than the Ohio percentage. It will be seen, however, that evictions have taken place so rapidly in the last ten years in Kansas, that over a third of the farmers in both states, as shown by these ten sample counties selected by the republican census bureau, are now homeless.

Think of it—an increase of 153 per cent. in the number of homeless farmers in Kansas in only ten years of republican rule! Taxes against return crops in exchange for farm surplus—National Democrat.

TWO FALLACIES.

Senator Mills Ridicules Protection and

"But there is another form of governmental paternalism which undertakes to dictate where you shall and shall not buy your clothes. The value of labor lies in the freedom of exchange of its product. Where is the use or value of labor if you cannot sell it or its product where and to whom you please? Commerce needs independence for its best and highest development. We need a brotherhood of man to reach the best results of civilization. This is a need decreed by law. It is one of nature's dictums. Our republican friends attempt to revise this law. They say that we can produce all we consume. They would raise coffee in hot houses and tropical fruits in artificial heat. They want not only to be independent of all the world, but independent of God Almighty. The highest possible beneficence it is possible for humanity to attain is in strict conformity with the laws of nature. They are established for our guidance. If we violate them it is at our peril. But the republicans propose to improve upon the divine plan, and with paternalistic recourse to law reverse the course of nature. Man has never been made religious, moral or wise by law, but has never been made rich by law, except by processes of legalized robbery.

"Forty per cent. of the people of this country live by farming. It is the industry out of which all live. The average consumption of wheat is five bushels per head. The farmer who raises 600 bushels of wheat consumes 25 bushels with a family of five. The balance is his surplus. The surplus of any product controls the price of it. It is not what is consumed, but what is left for sale that fixes the price. The great wheat surplus goes to a foreign market constituting a large part of the farm products, which make 80 per cent. of our exports. The promise of a home market to consume, being left unfilled. After years of protection the republican senate committee on finance proposed to shut out foreign manufacturers and import foreign non-agricultural laborers. The average annual wheat crop is 625,000,000 bushels. The average consumption five bushels per head. This leaves an annual surplus of 288,000,000 bushels. To consume this we must import 57,000,000 non-agricultural laborers in one year. Where are they to be employed? One-third of the number would be workers and with the increased manufactured product growing out of their labor which we could not export, owing to high tariffs on raw material, that in one year the surplus of manufactured product would be so great we would have to begin importing farmers to consume it.

"You cannot restrict imports without restricting exports. Two things must pass in every transfer. Suppose a man has a horse he wants to trade for a cow. There is no law against a horse trade, but one against the trading of a cow. What is the effect of such a law? Is it not to restrict commerce? To destroy trade? To lose money? When we bar out importations we not only destroy the exchange of foreign goods for our surplus farm products, but by reducing the trade, employment and wages in foreign countries injure their capacity to consume them even were they willing to send the cash for our surplus. What is the price of wheat to-day? [A voice: 'Sixty-three cents.'] And how much has it fallen since the famine demand of Russia paid for gold, because our tariffs prohibited exchange, has ceased?

"Tariffs reduce wages. The farmer who gives six days' work at a dollar a day for six yards of cloth at a dollar a yard is enjoying fair trade, pardon me, free trade, God's trade, but if a tariff of 100 per cent. is put on the cloth, the farmer must work twelve days at 50 cents a day to make the $6, which is what the cloth is worth without the tariff and all it is worth in fair exchange.

"The labor cost in protected articles is a small item of the total. In Carnegie's steel works it is $3 a ton; the tariff is $13. Since Mr. Carnegie is speculating in magazine articles what to do with his surplus wealth I will tell him: Give it to the men who make it.

"But they tell us the foreigner pays the tax. Oh, yes! The man who makes a yard of woolen cloth in England for 90 cents and pays $1 to import it into this country to sell at $2, pays $1.90 to make 10 cents. He will get rich at it."

Senator Mills at Collinsville, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1892.

"CALAMITY CROAKERS."

The Republicans Are Now the Real "Calamity Howlers"—They See Through "Calamity" Glasses.

Talk about "calamity croakers." Just now the republicans are making themselves hoarse telling us about the distress caused by the McKinley bill—their realization of the sermon on the mount. No, they do not mean the distress at home. They never see what can be observed with the naked eye anywhere—the wage reductions in protected industries; workmen stranded by the closing of mills by tariff trusts; hunger and disease in millions of families poorly fed and clad because the "protected markets" have exhausted their funds. They look through telescopes and see the poor laborers in England, France, and Germany who have their wages reduced or have no work at all because McKinley has shut the products of their toil out of our markets. They enjoy this spectacle in Europe; then why does it make them so mad when democrats point out the distress here caused by the same cloven-footed measure. Both parties agree that Europe is more or less injured by the McKinley bill. One party says this country is also, and to a greater extent, cursed by McKinleyism. To this the republicans take exception, because they assert that what injures Europe must necessarily help America. A protectionist cannot understand that both parties to a trade can be, and usually are, benefited by an exchange of products. The cottonaker, the shoemaker and the hatmaker exchange products with each other and all exchange with the farmer because each can in this way most easily procure the necessities of life. For the same reason the cotton, sugar and orange growers of the south exchange their products for the manufactures and the wheat of the north. Natural advantages and human intelligence, skill and training determine what individuals, peoples and nations will produce, where they will make exchanges and what they will receive in exchange. If the laws of supply and demand are not interfered with articles will be produced and purchased where the cost of production is least and the world will be supplied with goods with the minimum amount of labor. Protectionists put up barriers to interfere with trade and to compel consumers to buy where the cost of production is high. This interference with the natural routes of commerce increases the cost of goods to both parties making the exchange. But a protectionist will never understand how the interference with the exchange will injure both parties—as soon as he does he is no longer a protectionist.

No Tin Flint in the Protectionist.

A great oversight was made by the managers of the Columbian parade in New York. The banners and the floats were symbolical of music, art, printing, physical science, etc., but the greatest institution of modern times, the one thing that made this the greatest of modern nations, was entirely forgotten in the make-up of the parade. No banner bore that most significant of all American words—"protection"—the newly-discovered method of increasing production and enriching the nation by taxation. The biggest float of all should have been an "American tin plate" mill in operation and showing the recently landed Welshmen in the act of dipping imported steel sheets into imported tin and imported palm oil, with a special agent of the treasury department stamping "American" on each shining sheet. These should then have been made into suitable emblems of "protection" and distributed broadcast to the millions of spectators, including the thousands of school children of New York who had not previously been supplied. The spectacle would have been inspiring and would have made an indelible impression upon all present. It is to be hoped that this great idea will receive proper attention at Chicago next year.

INDIANA STATE NEWS.

ISABELLA and Freddy Klein, two children of Muncie, have begun suit in Cleveland for $200,000 worth of property. Their father died after a gambling career, during which he hypothecated $200,000 worth of his dead wife's bonds on a loan. The suit is to recover the bonds.

JAMES SCARLETT and Mrs. Belle Taylor were married the other day under the same hanging rock near Orangeville, under which they had been married in 1878. Her parents had brought about a separation and a divorce. Both married, but both had been divorced again.

The first courthouse in Jackson county, erected in 1816, on land purchased from the government by John Ketcham, a two-story structure of hewn logs, cut on the ground, that has been used, consecutively, for seventy-six years as a courthouse, church, schoolhouse and stable, is still standing in a fair state of preservation at Brownstown, a village at the geographical center and the first shire town of the county.

JOSEPH SHACKMAN, of the firm of Shackman & Nadel, clothing dealers, and a pioneer among the business men of northern Indiana, died at Elkhart of gangrene, the result of cutting a toe while trimming a corn a few days ago.

MARTINSVILLE is finally to have water-works. The council is casting a quiet eye about now for a feasible plan and the most economic way.

Mrs. PAT KINSLEY prosecuted her husband for abandonment at Indianapolis, but when the case was called Mrs. Anna Ash, an important witness, failed to respond. The case was postponed until she could be brought in. The other day her dead body was found in her room, and it developed that she had committed suicide about twenty-four hours before by swallowing "rough on rats." No cause is known.

JACK the Huggler is abroad in Huntington. On the streets the other night, Misses Tillie Young and Kate Erlenbaugh were attacked, but the scoundrel was scared away by Frank Rausch.

MINERVA McGRUBER, a young lady aged twenty-one years, living with a widow woman named Dugeline Brooks, about six miles northeast of Greendale, committed suicide by shooting herself in the right side of the head. The only reason assigned was despondency, as she often remarked that she was tired of living. She was an orphan girl, and always bore a good reputation in the community where she lived.

JAS. A. ATWOOD, while at work in a fence mill near Jolity, was struck on the head with a heavy slab, rendering him unconscious. His condition is precarious, from the fact that his head and face are not only terribly lacerated, but his mind is affected by his injuries.

JUDGE GILLET's decision in the widely-quoted test case of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad Co. to determine the validity of the tax law was rendered at Valparaiso, the other day. It affirms the constitutionality of the enactment of the legislature of 1892, and establishes the liability of the railroad company for the payment of all assessments made in accordance with its provisions. The suit was one in which the railroad was resisting the collection of taxes in sixty-five counties. The case will go to the supreme court.

CHARLES SCHOONOVER, a well known farmer of Laporte county, choked to death the other afternoon in a saloon in Laporte while attempting to swallow a piece of liver which he had procured at the lunch counter.

The college at Wabash will have a senate made up of students who will make the laws governing the college and try offending pupils.

The November Wide Awake

Opens with a profusely-illustrated article on "Some British Castles," written by Oscar Fay Adams, and appropriately frontispiced by a splendid full-page picture, by Garrett, of "Marmion's Defiance to Earl Douglas." Alexander Black has a capital descriptive paper on "The Babies of the Zoo" at Central Park, charmingly illustrated by Irene Williamson, a pupil of Beard. Edith Robinson has a fine story, "Raglan's Substitute," of the pluck and bravery of a Harvard boy at a city fire; Mary Selden McCobb has a good Thanksgiving story, "Why She Was Thankful," and "Mabel's Election Day" is an appropriate November story by Ellen Strong Bartlett. Florence Howe Hall tells of the "Mortuary-Duckling Fair." "How Dorothy Paid Her Way," by Caroline E. Hersey, is a bright story of a bright girl. The serials by Kirk Munroe, "The Coral Ship," and "That Mary Ann," by Kate Upson Clark, which all the boy and girl readers have voted as "fine," end with this number, for a new volume of the ever-popular WIDE AWAKE will begin with the December number. Price 20 cents a number, $2.40 a year. On sale at news stands or sent postpaid on receipt of price, by D. Lothrop Company, Publishers, Boston.

"Do you know a gas-meter is to me almost human?" "To me, too. It has that gradually human tendency toward untruth."

Home-Seekers, Attention!

The United States government has decided to open, Nov. 22, 1892, for settlement under the homestead law, the unincorporated lands of the Marquette & Little Bay Du Noquet Railroad, heretofore reserved from entry, in Northern Michigan. At the same time the right of the Ontonagon & Brule River Railroad has been denied to a large tract of land in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. This gives an unprecedented chance to locate valuable timber and mineral lands, which are among the best in the Upper Peninsula and are reached only over the North Star Route (Milwaukee & Northern Railroad) between Chicago and Lake Superior.

Cold Wave Coming.

Weather reports from all extreme stations announce the early advent of cold waves. In anticipation, thousands of people are completing arrangements to spend the winter in the South. Of all south bound routes, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad offers the best advantages to the traveler. It is the shortest line from Chicago to Florida and Gulf Coast resorts. Its trains reach destination six hours in advance of any other line. Its equipment is unsurpassed. Its popular fast train, the "Chicago & Nashville Limited," which leaves Dearborn Station, Chicago, 4 p. m. every day in the year, connects with all through trains from the West and Northwest, is vestibuled from end to end, heated by steam, lighted by gas, is composed of Pullman sleepers, Pullman Ladies' and Day coaches, and a superb dining car.

For full information, time tables, illustrated guide books, maps, etc., apply to, or address any agent of connecting lines; CHARLES W. HUMPHREY, Northern Passenger Agent, 130 East Third St., St. Paul, Minn.; City Ticket Office, 224 Clark St., Chicago, or CHARLES L. STONE, General Passenger & Ticket Agent, Room 415 First National Bank Bldg., Chicago.

IT ISN'T IN THE ORDINARY WAY that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the weak and suffering woman who needs it. It's guaranteed. Not with words merely; any medicine can make claims and promises. What is done with the "Favorite Prescription" is this: if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, your money is returned. Can you ask any better proof that a medicine will do what it promises?

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a certain remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. In "female complaints" of every kind, periodical pains, internal inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down sensations, and all chronic weaknesses and irregularities, it is a positive and complete cure.

To every tired, overworked woman, and to every weak, nervous, and ailing one, it is guaranteed to bring health and strength.

Milk Cans, pans, churns, bottles, everything which is used for milk, even down to the baby's bottle—these are things for which you need Pearline. With Pearline, they're cleansed more easily, more quickly, more economically, and more thoroughly, than with anything else known. The people who know most about milk say just that. We can't afford to print all the testimonials we hold. They're free expressions of opinion—in conventions, in papers, everywhere where milk folks have a voice. Their enthusiasm about Pearline is genuine. And it's natural. For all kinds of washing and cleaning, nothing equals Pearline.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

The "craze" is all for smooth goods in heavy overcoats this season. Ninety per cent or more of the best winter overcoats will be Kerseys and Meltons. They must be 2 to 4 inches longer than last year. Greencastle, Ind., November 4.

VOTE against the greedy, robbing tariff party.

GIVE no heed to lying circulars distributed on the day of the election.

To Mr. Chase, late hospital nurse: In your own language, the "imps of hell" have got ye.

Five thousand dollars has been deposited in the Indianapolis Sentinel office to bet on New York, Indiana and the election of Cleveland.

STAND on the watch tower, unfurl the banner of democracy, cry aloud and spare no man who attempts a violation of the election law.

INDIANA Fricks can't bring in Pinkerton thugs and their rifles to shoot down striking workmen. A democratic legislature attended to that.

No laboring man should vote for Whitelaw Reed, the rat, who believes in keeping the poor man poor, and will not pay his printers fair wages.

DEMOCRATS, remember that every vote against a democratic candidate for the legislature is a vote against David E. Turpie for United States Senator.

A VOTE for Ader, Vermillion and Sells is a vote for the safety of the election law, the school book law, the tax law and for a democratic United States Senator.

VOTE with a view of again having an opportunity to do so. If Harrison's force bill is made a law, it will be waste of time for you to go to the polls in the future.

HON. DAVID E. TURPIE favors the election of United States Senators by the people. Cast your vote so as to secure his return to the Senate. He is a Jeffersonian democrat.

THE democrats of Putnam county have determined to prosecute to the bitter end every violator of the election law. No guilty man, no matter who or what he is, will be spared.

A VOTE for Stockwell is a half vote for John Worrell, a grain and stock gambler, who does not enjoy the confidence and support of his neighbors of any party. Vote for George W. Cooper.

If you receive a lying circular, stating that your pension will be taken away from you if Cleveland is elected, throw it in the fire like a sensible man and give it no more thought. He proved himself the friend of the soldier, and the old chestnutty, malicious, foolish falsehood of '84 and '88 will have no effect in this campaign. Rea, ex-commander in chief of the G. A. R., has declared for Cleveland. This gives the lie direct to the slanders of the managers of the g. o. p.

WILD-CAT MONEY AGAIN.

The republican leaders have announced to their strikers that defeat awaits them unless they can stampede the democrats by some new dodge, and suggest the wild-cat scheme. The ignoramus who are connecting the democracy with the origin of wild-cat money in Indiana evidently have no knowledge of its history. The law authorizing free banks was enacted by the know-nothing legislature of 1854 and opposed by democrats. It was vetoed by the great democratic Governor, Joseph A. Wright, and made a law March 3, 1855, over his objections, by the opponents of the democratic party. The democratic party has always been in favor of honest money, regarding gold and silver as the standard. Its Chicago platform declares:

We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discriminating against either metal or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement, or by such safeguards of legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets, and in payment of debts; and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable by such coin. We insist upon this policy as especially necessary for the protection of the farmers and laboring classes, the first and most defenceless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency.

We have heretofore published Mr. Cleveland's declaration upon the money question in his letter of acceptance. With such assurances all can rest easy upon the money question.

The money question is not in issue. Democrats are as much interested in having good money as others, and, under no circumstances, would tolerate any other kind. The republicans know this, but are using this shallow trick to lead the people's attention from the dangers resulting from the destruction of a free ballot by a force law and from a rapacious protective tariff. Democrats, close up the ranks, keep sentinels on the watch towers, move in a solid phalanx. Our friends, the enemy, are on the run, and victory is within our grasp if we but do our duty Tuesday.

THE old basso foghorn-chestnut, Chaplain Lozier, will speak here today. He is distinguished for coarseness and the vulgar abuse he heaps on democrats. He is in the habit of saying in his speeches that a democratic soldier who supports Cleveland is an instance of total depravity. The statement ought to blister his blasphemous lips. He knows that Cleveland signed 1,825 special pension bills in four years and that Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Arthur altogether signed 2,041 special bills in twenty-four years of administration. He also knows that the interest of the soldiers was and will again be as safe in Cleveland's hands as in Harrison's. It is to the interest of the veteran himself that none but deserving soldiers should receive pensions. Gen. Rea, ex-commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who will, next Tuesday, for the first time vote a democratic ticket, says of Mr. Cleveland's pension vetoes:

There was so much talk in grand army circles on the subject of these pension vetoes that I determined to look it up for myself. I did so thoroughly, and the result is that I will show what I think of them by voting for Mr. Cleveland. I fail to find a single veto that was not based upon principles of right and justice, and I honor Cleveland for his upright and manly course. I believe his sympathies are and always have been with the old soldier, and I can prove my belief in no more convincing way than by giving him the first vote I ever cast for a democrat.

Such is the sentiment of this gallant Union soldier and of thousands of others. Lozier and his gang will in time learn that the Vanderbilts, Goulds, Wanamakers, Carnegies and pension agents do not own the soldiers as did slave owners their negroes in ante bellum times.

No man can be charged with being a calamity howler when he states the evident fact that the passage of the Force bill would ruin our great republic. It would inevitably lead to revolution. The unscrupulous leaders of the republican party are enthusiastic in support of the injurious measure. They would put shackles upon you by making elections a farce. Vote Harrison and his party out of power.

No workingman can with a clear conscience vote for Harrison when he remembers that the republicans campaign is being managed by Frick, who shot down the men who toiled to make him a millionaire. The McKinley law warranted to cause higher wages—was in force and the Homestead toilers only asked that their wages be not reduced. They did not strike for an increase.

DEMOCRATS, don't worry over New York: the Empire State is safe for Cleveland. We, every man of us, must do our duty by vigorous and effective work in our own State. Make a stiff fight and Indiana is ours. See that your neighbors go to the polls, instruct them how to vote; be vigilant, active and aggressive.

MANY Hendricks county republicans will scratch Worrell, the bucket-shop fiend.

VOTE it straight.

THE brass-piece, Lozier, in a speech at Crawfordsville last Saturday, said that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in British gold had been brought to Indiana to carry the state for Cleveland. He will, no doubt, state the same malicious, willful falsehood here to-day. This truthful preacher traversed the country in 1884, telling the people that if Cleveland should be elected he would pension rebel soldiers, pay the rebel war debt and re-enslave the negroes. The sequence shows how much reliance is to be placed upon the statements of any man who steals the livery of heaven in which to serve the devil. The Banner Times intimates that it wants to surrender the ananias belt. If it thinks that office is no longer entitled to it, we suggest that it be delivered to Chaplain Lozier immediately upon his arrival here. The B. T. office has in its possession another fairly won trophy, the billingsgate belt. This, also, should be delivered to Parson Lozier as the common property of himself and Parson Chase.

A MOST encouraging feature of the political campaign in Greencastle, which closes Tuesday, has been the interest manifested by the young men, and especially by students of DePauw University. A few years since democratic college boys here were few and silent. Now they lead the procession in zeal, work and enthusiasm. They made a formidable appearance as they marched around the square Saturday night and escorted Orator Lamb to the Opera House. They are adopting a wise course in allying themselves, upon the threshold of manhood, with a party that favors a government of the people, for the people and by the people, and which opposes plutocracy and paternalism. All honor to the gallant democratic students of DePauw. Upon such depends the future glory and safety of our country.

UNDER the McKinley law pauper labor can pour into the country, without any obstruction whatever, workingman, and take your job at lower wages, and also under its provisions the millionaire manufacturer can poke his hand into your pocket every time you make a purchase at a store and steal a portion of your hard earnings. Protection is robbery.

THE McKinley tariff protects the manufacturer but gives no protection to the men who work in his mills. There is no tariff on paupers, and the pauper labor of Europe is liable to kick the workingman out of the shop at any time and take his job at half price. Fine protection, this, for the American workingman.

JUDGE BALDWIN, polished orator that he is, called the McKinley tariff "a blanked fraud." He was right, for that is the only language which fits the case. The wonder is why the people have been so long in getting their eyes open. They will show on Nov. 8 that they "see quite plainly."

No poor man should vote with the high tariff party. If you were a millionaire with a protected factory by which you robbed the toiling masses every hour in the day, it would be different. Cast your ballot for Cleveland and the greatest good to the greatest number.

THE price of wheat in New York, last week, reached the lowest point ever known in that market, and yet the farmer is told in every republican paper and by every jack leg speaker of that faith, that he is prospering.

So many republicans are coming out for Cleveland that it is somewhat difficult to tell who is who or where we are "at." Let the good work go on. As Pete Stoner says, "there is a God in Israel."

FORCE bills, blue blood, high protective tariffs, titles, millionaires and centralization of power do not become a republic. They lead to ruin. Vote against the republican party.

THIS is not a time for democrats to scratch. We must stand together if we defeat the republican party and its unlimited supply of corruption boodle. Stamp the rooster.

VOTE against the party that would take away from you the right to have your vote counted. Down the Force bill.

SOUND the loud trimbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea. Jehovah will triumph and his people be freed on Nov. 8th.

WE'VE got 'em on the run. Let every democrat help to keep them going.

VOTE against the thieving tariff.

From Worrell's Home.

His army comrades say John Worrell always sought the safety and seclusion afforded by the rear when an engagement was imminent.

Worrell bankrupted himself and defrauded a number of his neighbors, yet he wants to go to Congress to assist in making laws for the nation.

"Bucket Shop John" will be the worst beaten man that ever run for Congress in this district.

John Worrell's army record is as unsavory as his business transactions with his neighbors. A member of his company tells us that whenever an engagement was imminent he was taken sick and sought the safety afforded in the rear.

Hon. W. G. Neff made a rousing speech to a good audience at Okala Thursday night.

The subscription price of the DEMOCRAT is only $1.00 per year; single copies, 5 cents.

Mrs. C. A. Travis, of Paris, Ill., was here this week in search of her husband, Dr. Travis, who is mysteriously missing.

Rev. E. B. Wright will preach at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. Christian Endeavor meeting at six o'clock.

The Hallowe'en hoodlums run off Louis Weik's delivery wagon and burned it up. Considerable property of various kinds was destroyed.

W. H. Lyon has sold his photograph gallery to W. F. Kerr, and the latter will combine the two establishments. Mr. Lyon has not yet decided where he will locate.

Ren P. Carpenter and Charles Devine, two industrious young democratic orators, addressed a meeting at Malta in Floyd township October 18. John Jacobs and Henry Siddons also made addresses.

Married—On Oct. 30, Joseph S. Allee and Ida A. Tilly, at the residence of the bride's father, John Tilly, on E. Washington street, Elder C. M. Irwin performing the ceremony in his usual graceful manner.

General Williamson and Captain Smiley's meeting at Putnamville, last Saturday, was a hummer for that town, and a large audience of ladies and gentlemen were highly pleased with the speaking.

Herman Hoffman, Peter Stoner, Prof. Gerhard Hinchman and others attended the big rally at Terre Haute. They report the parade the biggest thing of the kind in their experience—democrats were everywhere.

Aubrey Ernest, who "put out" Prof. Teister in three rounds, has filed against the latter in the circuit court for assault and battery on his girl. She was a pupil of the colored school and was chastised by the professor. P. O. Collier has been employed to assist in the prosecution.

Hon. John E. Lamb addressed the DePauw democratic club Saturday night at the opera house. A large audience was in attendance. The eloquent orator, though suffering from an inflamed throat, delivered a forceful speech and was warmly applauded. The DePauw boys were out in force, and in escorting the speaker from his hotel made themselves heard. Frank O'Hair introduced the speaker in a graceful speech.

Followed by a few of the colored troops, a postmaster, and two or three other republican office-holders, T. T. Moore—with his hat set jauntily on one side of his head—marched proudly to the Van depot Thursday morning. The Greencastle delegation to the Brazil meeting was a complete fizzle. Grant Newton was one of the distinguished gentlemen who honored the company with his presence, and climbed on the cars conspicuously puffing a cigarette. Bob Black's pitiful appeals to the bystanders to accept a ticket and help poor Ben made even the democrats cry.

Stamp the rooster—he will do the rest.

Browning & Strother shipped a car load of export cattle to New York this week.

Born, to Emerson Buis and wife, a son, Nov. 2.

Dr. John will deliver the University lecture to-morrow afternoon.

John Cawley took a car load of fine mules to St. Louis this week.

Died, Oct. 31, in Floyd township, Alilian B. C. Daniel, aged 24 years.

Mrs. T. L. Neff has returned to Iowa City, Iowa, after a pleasant visit with her parents.

The aged mother of Mrs. Sarah Plummer, of Fern, fell last week and broke the bones of one arm. The old lady is 87 years of age.

Lewis Cisel, formerly a resident of this city, now of Lafayette, dislocated his jaw by a yawn and was in great agony until a physician arrived.

The Banner Times says ex-Governor Hanna has a month's vacation without pay in which to help out Harrison by rustling over the State. How about our friend Jesse W. Weik?

Crawfordsville Star: A Monon brakeman, named Frank Able, of Quincy, had his arm severely mashed at Ladoga last night. It resulted as usual from his arm being caught between the bars while endeavoring to make a coupling. It was literally mashed into a pulp to the elbow.

Squire Ashton's court: Frank Albin pleaded guilty to an assault on C. H. Cook, a son of A. C. Cook, and was fined. Mr. Albin's cows raided Mr. Cook's garden. The latter corralled them and refused to turn them over until the damages were paid. A fight followed in which Albin used a club.

A big-mouthed colored man, who used to yell for "good old Ben" in the Blue Jeans campaign here, is in trouble at Crawfordsville, as will be seen from the following extract from the Star of that city: "Luther Monroe, against whom a charge of petit larceny has been pending for some time, appeared before Mayor Randal this morning. He was bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $100."

Sadie, eldest daughter of Richard M. and Mary T. Bunten, died in this city on Oct. 30, 1892, at the age of nine years, of typhoid fever after an illness of 22 days. Sadie was a favorite among all her acquaintances on account of her gentle and lovable disposition, and was especially well liked by the pupils of the First ward school, where she was making splendid progress in her studies. Her parents have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

James E. Matthews left a short time ago for Florida, where he spent the winters on account of his health, after a pleasant summer visit with his family. On Tuesday his wife received the news of his death at Asheville, North Carolina. The remains arrived here Thursday. The funeral occurred yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the services being conducted by Dr. Willis, assisted by Dr. Gobin. Ritualistic services were conducted by the G. A. R. The deceased was forty-nine years of age, and served throughout the war in Indiana regiments—the 16th, 115th and 154th Indiana Volunteers. A widow and daughter are left to mourn his loss, together with a large circle of friends and relatives in this city, where he resided for many years.

The Best Offer of All!

THE DEMOCRAT's big mailing list is about completed and in type. It is already so near the head of the procession that we feel warranted in saying that the New Year will find it in the enjoyment of a

COUNTY.

We want to number you among its readers if you are not already taking it. The paper is worth double the small sum asked for it, and no man is so poor that he cannot afford to pay one dollar for the pleasure, profit and instruction that it will yield him and his family. Do not take our word for it, but subscribe and give it a trial.

To all subscribers for 1893. THE DEMOCRAT will be sent FREE the remainder of 1892. Now is the time to subscribe! Our campaign subscribers will do well to avail themselves of this liberal offer. Ere another issue of THE DEMOCRAT, the battle of the ballots will have been fought. Politics will not demand pressing attention or much space during the ensuing year, and our best efforts will be directed to the improvement of our paper, that it may not only retain its present high place in the estimation of the people, but grow in favor. That it may become an indispensable and welcome visitor in every home in Putnam county is our ambition.

Stamp the rooster and let him do the scratching.

Our Colored Citizens.

Mrs. Rachel Smith has been sick.

The Ernest Teister mill is the chief topic of conversation. Public opinion is divided.

Enos Townsend's last trip to Terre Haute was not a glittering success, as he "missed connection." Miss Josie Smith, of Terre Haute, visited Greencastle this week.

The colored troops will of course fight nobly next Tuesday, but rumor has it that some of them will follow the example of their Georgia brethren and stamp the rooster, despite the terrific efforts of the republican wire pullers to whip and bulldoze them into line.

Greencastle's colored people are all healthy and prosperous, and keeping step with the advancement of the community in every respect.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Dr. Pierce has returned to Kentucky.

G. W. Earhart has the typhoid fever.

William Callender, Sr., is some better.

Miss Kate Merrill is visiting at Flora, Illinois.

Mrs. Leslie Joslin is visiting her parents at Orleans.

Owen Owens is now located at Louisville, Kentucky.

W. H. Ragan was home from Chicago for a brief visit the first of the week.

Miss Etta Griffith spent Hallowe'en with Miss Ora Hinton at Ladoga.

Miss Jennie Watson, of Terre Haute, is the guest of Miss Stella Grubb.

Ollie Carter, Monon traveling auditor, was in the city Wednesday, paying taxes.

Theodore Sweeney, the expert photographer, will remove to Bloomington.

Mrs. R. D. Warner, of Minneapolis, is the guest of her sisters, Mesdames Jerome and Albert Allen.

Mrs. G. M. Black is home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. G. W. Durham, at Crawfordsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon and daughter, of Clayton, were in the city over Sunday, the guests of Mrs. James U. McClure.

R. L. O'Hair, of the Central National bank, spent several days at Roachdale, initiating the officers of the new bank.

Danville Gazette: Rev. T. J. Bassett introduced himself to the M. E. congregation last Sunday by preaching interesting discourses morning and evening.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Bettie Butler, of Limestone, to Mr. E. C. Minton, of Martinsville, on Wednesday evening, November 9, at eight o'clock.

Crawfordsville Journal: John Hillis, the well known Greencastle singer, has been engaged by B. Fay Miller to travel with him during the coming season.

Theodore C. Jennings returned from Louisville, Kentucky, Thursday, where he has spent several weeks with relatives. The aged hero was determined to get home in good time to cast his ballot for Cleveland and reform.

Miss Rosa Marquis, violinist, assisted by Miss Kate Hammond, vocalist, and Mrs. Anna Allen Smith, accompanist, will give a public recital in the Music hall on Friday evening, November 11, at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

Crawfordsville Star: Harry Maxwell, of DePauw college, sang several solos at the M. E. church yesterday morning and evening and will perhaps sing again next Sunday. The report that he would travel this winter with Dr. Keene, the evangelist, is wrong; he will continue at DePauw for at least another year.

James Cassel, the popular Big Four conductor, was badly hurt in a collision at Pontanet, but will be able to reach the polls and vote for Grover.

Mrs. Milligan, of Greencastle, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Brien. Another daughter, Mrs. Mike Carroll, of San Pierre, is also their guest.

NORTH END.

Rosa, daughter of Patrick Sage, has been seriously sick with diphtheria, but is now better.

James Sage writes from Providence, Rhode Island, to his brother, George, that New York will go democratic by 50,000.

William Cassel, the popular Big Four conductor, was badly hurt in a collision at Pontanet, but will be able to reach the polls and vote for Grover.

Mrs. Milligan, of Greencastle, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Brien. Another daughter, Mrs. Mike Carroll, of San Pierre, is also their guest.

The Plainfield Murder.

Columbus Herald.

Hon. Geo. W. Cooper was seen by a Herald reporter this morning just as he was about to leave for Union precinct, where he begins his canvass for this county. He was asked in regard to the murder of Alvin Williams at Plainfield, and he characterized the statement in to-day's issue of the Indianapolis Journal as an infamous justification of a cowardly political murder. Shortly after the meeting was called to order, a shower of rocks fell upon the roof of the town hall, where the speaking was in progress. He stepped to the door to ask for quiet of the gang of hoodlums, saying in a manner that betrayed no anger, "This is our night, boys, and you have no right to disturb us," when Allison, his murder, approached with a crowd and fired the fatal shot. The statement in the Indianapolis Journal that Williams was out looking for trouble is a bare falsehood told only for political reasons to shield a murderer. He was absent from the hall not more than three or four minutes when the report of the pistol was heard. Allison was among the disturbers in the room and was seen to leave soon after the speaking was begun.

Won't Be Sold.

Editors DEMOCRAT:

I see by last week's issue of the DEMOCRAT that Fred Robinson and a certain party, man from this place, were at Greencastle trying to bargain the people's party to the republicans. I did not at first believe the story but I have since found that it is true. I for one do not intend to be made an article of merchandise to be bought and sold or swapped off at the instance of such men as Robinson. In fact, I am surprised that such a man as the party that was with Robinson, should attempt to sell his neighbors as the slave owner did his slaves. Mr. Robinson, you can make all the bargains you please, but you will have trouble when you try to deliver the goods. While I do not agree with Cleveland in all his ideas of government, much less do I agree with Harrison, and as the lesser of the two evils, I shall vote for Cleveland and the entire democratic ticket.

Cloverdale, Indiana, November 1.

Gen. Williamson interviewed.

Indianapolis Sentinel.

Ex-Attorney-General D. E. Williamson of Greencastle was in the city yesterday. He left the Republican party, with which he had been many years, and came over to democracy in June last. Mr. Williamson said of the political situation: "Indiana is a democratic state. It has only been carried by republicans under the old system of balloting when money could be freely used. The whole tendency of politics in the state is toward democracy and all other changes are in favor of the democratic candidates. I am thoroughly satisfied with our outlook."

Ader in Montgomery.

Crawfordsville Star.

Frank D. Ader, candidate for joint representative from Putnam, Montgomery and Clay, has talked to large and enthusiastic audiences everywhere he has spoken in this county. Mr. Ader is a man of no little ability and a splendid speaker withal. He has been in the legislature before and made for himself a record that all who are acquainted with the political history of the state will remember. He is a fearless man, standing up for what he believes to be right.

Prof. Weaver Complimented.

THE Greencastle Democrat

During 1893 will lead the procession of Indiana county papers. It will

PRINT ALL THE NEWS!

And present the same in a readable, spicy and thorough manner.

Its success has been phenomenal. Why? It prints the News. This is what the reading public demands. It's easy to make a success of any enterprise if you'll only "Hustle." That is what we've been doing. Our policy and motto for 1893 is summed up in four words—

"HUSTLE FOR THE NEWS!"

We've always had everything afloat and we'll have it in the future as well. The existence of the paper has been a triumphant march on the pathway of success. Beginning in February last, without a subscriber, its circulation is now 1,500, and steadily increasing. The words of praise and commendation whispered into its ears would fill its columns. In its onward march, it will strive to be more and more worthy of the encouragement it has received. When the smoke of the presidential conflict has cleared away it will apply the energy which it has devoted to the cause of the party it loves, to the pleasant task of making itself indispensable in every home in Putnam county.

COUNTY NEWS.

A newspaper press will be put in and the plant improved in every respect, especially in the job department. Our corps of country correspondents, already the best in the county, will be enlarged. We want and will have the services of the best writers in every neighborhood, as county news will, as in the past, always be made a leading feature of the paper. The watch-tires of Democracy will be kept brightly burning all along the line—the editorial matter will be full of ginger. But above all else, THE DEMOCRAT WILL PRINT THE NEWS.

RUIN IN MILWAUKEE.

A Dozen Blocks in Her Business District Burned.

The Losses Are Estimated at Nearly $7,000,000—Several Lives Lost and Many Persons Injured—A Thousand Homeless People.

GREAT FIRE IN MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29.—There were several alarms Friday afternoon for fires, all of them the result of the heavy gale of wind that sprang up shortly before noon and increased until at 5 o'clock it reached a velocity of about 50 miles an hour. Between 5 and 6 o'clock there were five alarms, and the fire department, including the fire tug, was scattered in various parts of the city, when shortly before 6 o'clock an alarm was sent in from the box at the corner of Detroit and East Water streets. It was for a fire in the Union Oil Company's store at No. 275 East Water street, situated on the west side of the street, about midway between Detroit and Buffalo streets, the rear of the store being on the river. From this point the flames spread until the lower part of the Third ward was burned over, causing a loss of nearly $7,000,000. The insurance is estimated at $2,500,000. At least 1,500 people are homeless. Among the more prominent firms burned out were the following:

Union Oil Company, M. Bloch & Co., wholesale liquor dealers; the F. Dohman Wholesale Drug Company; Milwaukee Mirror and Art Glass Company; J. P. Kissinger, wholesale liquor dealer; J. E. Patton wholesale paints and oils; Bub & Kipp, wholesale furniture dealers; Jacob Wellauer & Co., wholesale grocers; Roundy, Peckham & Co., wholesale grocers; Milwaukee Chair Company; Weiss & Vilter, machine shops; National Distilling Company, warehouse; J. E. Bailey, iron foundry; Wirth, Hammel & Co., stables; McInden house; Milwaukee Gas Company; J. G. Hansen, malt house; Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company's freight houses and cars.

Leading insurance men say that about half of the losses is covered by insurance. They estimate the big losses as follows:

Bub & Kipp, furniture	$200,000
J. E. Patton & Co., oils and paints	250,000
J. P. Kissinger, wholesale liquors	75,000
Milwaukee mirror works	50,000
B. Leidersdorf, tobacco	250,000
Gunder Lithograph Company	100,000
Roundy, Peckham & Co., wholesale grocers	300,000
H. L. Schaefer & Co., wholesale grocers	200,000
J. Wellauer & Co., wholesale grocers	200,000
Milwaukee Chair Company	250,000
Nichols houses, contents	50,000
and cars	300,000
Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western freight houses	50,000
McInden house	25,000
Pflugradt & Co., confectionery	25,000
Joseph W. Sauer, glove manufacturer	10,000
Friedrichs & Bros., business houses, contents	500,000
Five hundred dwellings and cottages	500,000
P. P. Dohman & Co., drugs	150,000
Weiss & Vilter, machinery	100,000
Topfer & Sons, machinery	40,000
Bailey & Sons, machinery	50,000
Imbush Bros., grocers	250,000
Delaware & Confectionery	25,000
Delaware & Quentin, tool shop	35,000
Milwaukee Bag Company	50,000
A. J. Hilbert & Co., flavoring extracts	4,000
Total	$3,776,000

Chicago, Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan and other points were early appealed to for help and responded promptly, firemen and apparatus arriving from the several points as rapidly as steam could bring them. They left the trains south of the fire and did much to confine it to the north bank of the river below the turn at Walker's Point bridge. At 12:45 Chief Foley announced that the fire was under control.

Two dead firemen are in the morgue on River street. They are:

Henry Prudden, No. 3 station, residence No. 255 Reid street, struck by falling timber and smothered; Charles Stahr, No. 4 hook and ladder, No. 822 Fourth avenue, struck by beam and smothered to death.

There was one other body at the morgue at midnight—that of a woman of perhaps 50 years, small in stature, with dark hair. There are no marks on her body to show how she met her death. She must have been suffocated by the smoke.

At Peacock's undertaking rooms at midnight the only body was that of a Mrs. Callahan, a widow who lived on Jackson street, opposite the Northwestern freight depot. She evidently died of fright, for it was known she was a sufferer from heart disease. When she was first found in a helpless condition she was taken to the Third ward schoolhouse, where she died.

There are many persons at the Emergency hospital. Two of these are seriously injured and may die. The most seriously hurt are:

James Berghental, No. 110 Twenty-ninth street, head and face injured by explosion; Richard Gardner, Humboldt and Auer streets, face and head hurt by explosion; J. H. Roesch, 60 years old, No. 184 Garfield avenue, broken leg, injured about head and body, may die, buried beneath falling walls; William Witte, 30 years old, No. 379 Greenfield avenue, leg broken, injured by falling bricks, may die.

The entire lower part of the Third ward, inhabited largely by poor Irish families, was devastated. About 500 cottages were destroyed.

The fire originated from an explosion of something in the cellar. Fed by the inflammable stock it soon spread through the three upper floors.

At 9 o'clock, by order of Mayor Somers, the militia alarm was sounded from the central fire station. Within an hour a number of the Lighthouse Squadron troops, as well as many infantrymen, reported for duty. They were detailed along the burned district to assist the police in keeping back the hundreds of thousands of people gathered about and to assist the homeless in finding shelter from the bleak winds.

The Milwaukee fire department consists of 252 men, eighteen engine companies, seven truck companies, seven chemical engine companies, the fire boat Cataract and the water tower. The fire losses last year amounted to $325,000.

FATAL FIRE AT CLEVELAND.

Teachout's Sash and Door Works and a Window Glass Warehouse Burned—One Life Lost.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 29.—An incendiary fire in the Cleveland window glass warehouse destroyed $40,000 worth of sash doors and blinds. M. F. Sullivan, an ornamental glass-cutter, and Kate Nolan, a girl employed by him, were at work on the third floor when the fire started and being overcome by smoke were unable to get out. They were removed by the firemen, but the girl died half an hour afterward and Sullivan is not expected to recover.

MILWAUKEE'S DISASTER.

The Loss by the Fire Aggregates $5,805,000, with Insurance of About $2,800,000—Four Lives Lost—Buildings to the Number of 465 Burned, and 2,500 Persons Left Homeless.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—Four hundred and sixty-five buildings destroyed.

Three hundred and fifty-eight families—including a total of 2,500 persons—made homeless.

A total property loss of $5,805,000, with insurance amounting to about $2,800,000.

Four persons killed and eight or ten injured.

Such, in brief, is the result of the fire which threatened for a time on Friday night to sweep Milwaukee off the face of the earth.

There are many sorrowful faces to be seen along the streets in the vicinity of the fire district. Many families lost everything but the clothing they wore, still there is not as much gloom as might be expected. The general relief committee held a meeting and issued the following:

"It is estimated that there will be needed the sum of $100,000 to properly care for the people made homeless by Friday night's fire. At the meeting of citizens held in the chamber of commerce Saturday morning the sum of $55,000 was subscribed; and, while we appreciate the kindness of those outside who have already made generous contributions, we desire to say that we are confident the remaining amount required will be subscribed by our citizens without it being necessary to appeal to the outside public. We confidently appeal to our citizens to raise the full amount needed."

There is promise that those who were rendered homeless will not be permitted to suffer. Already $62,968 has been raised, and all but about $10,000 came from this city. Many offers of assistance have been received and accepted, so that there is no doubt that a fund of $200,000 will be available within a few days. Many of the people made homeless by the fire and now in actual want may soon be placed in comfortable circumstances. Their homes are gone, but their land is still there, and it is valuable land. Wealthy corporations, business men and speculators will be ready to buy these lots.

The greatest individual financial loss sustained by the great fire was that suffered by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, which officials and local agents of the road now estimate will foot up from $800,000 to $1,000,000 and will likely go nearer the latter than the former sum. The burned property includes both of the great freight houses, one for incoming and one for outgoing freight. They were nearly 100 feet wide, covering the length of about three blocks. That devoted to incoming freight was thoroughly filled with merchandise of all kinds and descriptions which had been unloaded during the day and was ready for delivery. That devoted to outgoing freight was but partially filled. As a rule an average of 125 cars are loaded there daily with outgoing freight. The usual number of cars had been loaded during the day, and many of them were standing on the switches ready to be taken out during the night. As to the value of the freight in the houses and in cars ready to be taken out no accurate estimate can be made until the losses are adjusted between the company and the shippers. One car is said to have contained $30,000 worth of holiday goods just shipped by a local firm, and it is expected that many others were filled with valuable goods. There were burned in all on the freight house tracks 198 loaded freight cars, perhaps three-fourths of them received and ready to unload. Their contents can only be ascertained by a complete checking up of the way bills. Many of them are said to have been loaded with valuable dry goods of various kinds which merchants were providing for their holiday trade, and on such the loss will be heavy. There were a good many cars loaded with grain of all kinds shipped to this market and a number of cars loaded with potatoes. The freight cars empty are estimated to be worth an average of $500 each, but those values are small as compared to the contents of the cars. There were also forty to fifty of the Northwestern's coal cars in the company's coal yards, all loaded, which were completely destroyed.

The aggregate of the insurance carried on the burned property, as compiled by the insurance men, exclusive of that carried by the Northwestern road, is $2,750,000, and is divided among about 163 companies, which, with one or two exceptions, the insurance men say, could easily stand ten times the loss sustained here without crippling them in the least. There are one or two mutual companies which lose heavily and may be seriously affected. Unfortunately, one of these is most largely represented in the residence district burned, where, should it fail to pay in full, the losses will fall upon a class of people who can least afford to stand them.

Following are the insurance companies which sustain the heaviest losses:

Hartford	$75,000
Home	50,000
Lancashire (England)	60,000
Milwaukee Mechanics	75,000
Commonwealth (New York)	75,000
German-American (New York)	60,000
Ohio Farmers	50,000
Lancashire (New York)	50,000
Phoenix of Brooklyn	50,000
Commercial Union	50,000
Continental	40,000
North British	50,000
Northern National	50,000
Concordia	40,000

The balance of the losses are shared among the many companies in amounts ranging from $2,000 to $25,000.

The democratic speaking drew a big crowd and much good was accomplished. John Vermillion, F. D. Adler, W. B. Vestal and Daniel Shonkwiler made eloquent speeches. Their sound arguments made some of the republican brethren wince, but most of them took their medicine without making faces.

CLINTON FALLS.

Democratic club meeting here on Friday night.

Albert Lockridge and Tom Moore addressed the republicans here on Saturday night on past issues of past campaigns.

Chas. Bader and wife were accidentally poisoned on Sunday but now are well.

Some nuisances damaged Hamilton's engine in Bee's saw mill on Sunday to the extent of $15 or more.

School meeting at No. 8 Saturday—trouble with teacher.

The defences of democratic bills at this place had better be careful; they are violating laws.

Little did the average republican of Portland Mills think of the magnitude of the meeting to be held by the democrats at that place on Monday night. A procession headed by the Brick Chapel band and followed by the Clinton Falls "big wagon" of thirty-eight and drum corps, and a long procession of buggies, entered town and proceeded to the Christian church, where the speaking was to take place. The capacious building was soon filled to overflowing. H. J. Sigler presented Sheriff Vestal as chairman, who presented J. Q. Vermillion as first speaker, who poured hot shot into McKinleyism at such a lively rate as to produce utter consternation in the G. O. camp. So tightly did he fit the shoe on the foot of the G. O. man, who was in a front seat, roared like Balaam's ass at the pain he endured when the truth of protection was revealed to him. Next came Hon. F. D. Adler on state issues. In a masterly way he knocked republican on every corner on the tax law; showed the conspiracies entered into by the republicans to make the law odious. And last but not least, came Shonkwiler, the tariff reformer. Such an ovation as he received scarcely ever enters into a country political meeting, and before he was done speaking his old republican friends were to be seen slipping away. He told the people how he was tired of living on republican promises; that G. O. peace and plenty was a farce; that the tariff was not in the interest of the laboring man, and closed by telling how his former party was carrying on a campaign of lies.

Stamp the rooster and let him do the scratching.

Tom Young sold his hogs this week.

Hallowe'en was celebrated with the usual amount of pranks, and a raid on the turpentine patches of Messrs. Collins and Young.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mildred Abrams visited his aunt, Mrs. Art Jackson, Friday.

Miss Minnie Hinkle is quite sick.

Abram Abrams' sale was largely attended.

Pearl Buttons.

The west side merchant referred to by the Banner Times in connection with a pearl button transaction, says that what he did say was, that he was ashamed to price pearl buttons since the advance in price caused by the tariff. If he had stated that the tariff had more than trebled the cost of pearl buttons he would have but stated the truth. The tariff on pearl buttons is twenty-five per cent. ad valorem and two and one-half cents per line, which makes the ad valorem rate on pearl buttons from 300 to 1,400 per cent., owing to the size and quality of the buttons. The merchant says that as to buying the same button he offered for a third less price per dozen depends upon the ability of the purchaser to distinguish between pearl and mussel shell.

Notice of Administration.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the circuit court of Putnam county, state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of George W. Carmichael, late of Putnam county, Indiana, deceased. Said estate is supposed to be solvent. Dated this 29th day of October, 1892. GEORGE WRIGHT, Administrator. SMILEY & NEFF, Attorneys, 38-39

JUDGE WALTER Q. GRESHAM

Writes a Ringing Letter Stating His Position.—Will Vote for Cleveland.

The republican press and committees have persistently denied the truth of the report that Judge Walter Q. Gresham would vote for Cleveland. Buford Wilson, who was a trusted office holder under General Grant's administration, makes public the following terse and manly letter from the Judge. It makes plain the position of that pure and eminent jurist, soldier and citizen. Will any republican paper please publish it?

To the Hon. Buford Wilson, Springfield, Illinois:

Dear Major—I have your letter of the 21st inst. I did tell you at Springfield that, after mature reflection, I had determined to vote for Mr. Cleveland this fall, because I agreed in the main with his views on the tariff and did not believe in the principles embodied in the McKinley bill. I adhere to that determination and have said nothing indicating a change of purpose.

It is not true that with my knowledge or consent the president was asked to appoint me to any office.

It is not true that I requested any one to do anything to obtain the republican nomination this year.

It is not true that I voted for Mr. Cleveland in 1888. I voted the republican ticket at every presidential election since the party was organized, except in 1864, when I was not able to go to the polls.

The republicans were pledged to a reduction of the war tariff long before 1888, and during the campaign of that year the pledge was renewed with emphasis again and again. Instead of keeping that promise the McKinley bill was passed imposing still higher duties.

It was passed in the interest of favored classes and not for the benefit of the whole people.

It neither enhanced the price of farm products nor benefited labor. Wages are never will be regulated by supply and demand.

Duties were imposed upon some articles so high as to destroy competition and foster trusts and monopolies. I think you will agree with me that this was an abandonment of the doctrine of moderate, incidental protection. The tariff is now the most important question before the people, and whatever others may do I shall exercise the right of individual judgment and vote according to my convictions.

I think with you, that a republican can vote for Mr. Cleveland without joining the democratic party. How I shall vote in the future will depend upon the questions at issue. Very truly yours, W. Q. GRESHAM.

Notice of Application for License.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Bainbridge and of the township of Monroe, in the county of Putnam, and state of Indiana, and to all other persons whom it may concern, that the undersigned, a male inhabitant of said state, over the age of twenty-one years, will apply at the December term, 1892, of the Board of Commissioners of said county of Putnam, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous, malt and all other kinds of intoxicating liquors in a less quantity than a quart at a time, with the privilege of allowing the same to be drunk on the premises where sold, for the term of one year.

The precise location of the premises whereon said liquors are to be sold and drunk is in the east room of the one story frame building situated on a part of lot number nine in the original survey of the town of Bainbridge, in the township of Monroe, county of Putnam and state of Indiana, described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point six feet west of the northeast corner of said lot number nine, thence thence south to the south line of said lot, thence west forty-six feet and six inches, thence north to the north line of said lot, thence east to the place of beginning.

JAMES RAGLAND, Nov. 4, 1892.

Notice of Application for License.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Cloverdale and of the township of Cloverdale, in the county of Putnam and state of Indiana, and to all other persons whom it may concern, that the undersigned, a male inhabitant of said state, over the age of twenty-one years, will apply at the December term, 1892, of the Board of Commissioners of said county of Putnam, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous, malt and all other kinds of intoxicating liquors in a less quantity than a quart at a time, with the privilege of allowing the same to be drunk on the premises where sold, for the term of one year.

The precise location of the premises whereon said liquors are to be sold and drunk is in the one story frame building situated on a part of lot number ten, in east Cloverdale, in the township of Cloverdale, county of Putnam, state of Indiana, described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the southeast corner of said lot, thence west with the south line thereof fifty (50) feet, thence north fifty-four (54) feet, thence in a southeasterly direction, parallel with the track of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway, seventy (70) feet, thence south twelve (12) feet, to the place of beginning.
